Situation Overview

Since 4 April 2019, heavy clashes between the Libyan National Army (LNA) and armed groups affiliated with the Government of National Accord (GNA) have affected Tripoli and surrounding areas. As of 18 May 2019, the total number of casualties reported is 2,977, including 510 deaths. A total of 155 civilian casualties have been confirmed by the Health Sector, including 29 civilian deaths. The armed conflict continues to impact on health personnel and facilities, which are subject to indiscriminate shelling. Since the beginning of the crisis, four health workers have been killed, four have been injured, 12 ambulances have been impacted, including one hit by an apparent direct attack, and two health facilities were fully evacuated. These incidents further hamper the ability of already overstretched health services to provide vital assistance to civilians and constitute gross violations of International Humanitarian Law (IHL). The United Nations continue to call for an extendable humanitarian truce to allow for the provision of emergency services and the voluntary movement of civilians trapped in conflict areas.

Over 400,000 women and girls are directly affected by the conflict and at heightened risk of abuse, including 37,440 women of reproductive age who are in need of immediate humanitarian assistance. As of 17 May 2019, 75,000 individuals have been displaced: 42,200 of them received some form of humanitarian assistance, leaving a gap of 44%. Women and girls who have fled their homes require specific support with basic personal items to maintain their health and dignity while being displaced. Increased levels of psychosocial stress have been reported among displaced people.

Individual and group counselling are combined with recreational and awareness-raising activities to decrease levels of psychosocial stress.

HEALTH

Supporting the provision of lifesaving reproductive health services

Jointly with Tripoli Health Services Department and Tripoli Crisis Management Team, UNFPA contributed to the rehabilitation and equipment of Weryemma Polyclinic in Eastern Tripoli. A specialized team will be deployed in the Polyclinic to provide Basic Emergency Obstetric and Newborn Care, antenatal, postnatal and newborn care 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. UNFPA is also working on the rehabilitation of a polyclinic in Janzour jointly with the Ministry of Health and Ministry of Local Governance. The two activated maternities will reduce the load of patients that are referred to Al Jalaa maternity hospital, Al Khadhra hospital and Tajoura hospital.

UNFPA also scaled up the support to referral hospitals in Tripoli and surrounding areas affected by the conflict. Between 26 March and 4 April 2019, UNFPA has prepositioned 26 Emergency Reproductive Health kits in referral hospitals in Zliten, Zawiya, Tarhouna, Khoms, Sbiaa, Msallata, Garabulli, Gharian, Zinten and Sabrata to cover for the provision of safe deliveries for 1,005 pregnant women over a period of three months. Following the start of the crisis on 4 April, in partnership with the National Center for Disease Control (NCDC), UNFPA delivered 7 Emergency

Coordination of the Response

UNFPA officially re-activated the Reproductive Health Sub Working Group (RH-SWG), co-chaired by the Ministry of Health under the umbrella of the Health Sector, which ensures coordination of the RH response and identification of gaps. The first meeting of the RH-SWG was held on 5 May 2019 and identified key gaps in medical supplies and reproductive health interventions that will be addressed by different health partners under the joint coordination of the Ministry of Health and UNFPA.

Under UNFPA leadership, the Gender-Based Violence (GBV) Sub-Sector has been coordinating the GBV response in and around Tripoli. In order to strengthen access to timely GBV services, the GBV Sub-Sector has circulated an updated GBV referral pathway for Tripoli and developed pocket guide information for front line non-GBV actors. The Sub-Sector also developed a briefing note for the Humanitarian Coordinator on the Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA), including key steps to be ensured in the wake of the ongoing armed clashes in Libya.

UNFPA has also shared the Common Operational Dataset on Population Statistics (COD-PS) for Tripoli with OCHA on 10 April to be used for estimation of affected people. It includes demographic projections with full disaggregation by age, sex, mantiqa and muhalla and was prepared jointly with the Bureau of Statistics and Census in Libya.

UNFPA humanitarian response in and around Tripoli has been possible thanks to the support of the Government of Canada, CERF and UNFPA Emergency Fund.

Funding and Planned Interventions

As part of the Tripoli Flash Appeal launched by the Humanitarian Country Team (HCT), UNFPA has appealed for USD 1.2 million to provide protection, psychosocial support and reproductive health services to women and girls affected by the crisis in the month of April.

In light of the protracted nature of the crisis, UNFPA and its partners require a total of USD 2 million to respond to the growing needs of displaced households in conflict-affected areas over the coming three months.

UNFPA plans to reach an additional 50,000 IDPs in the coming six to nine months as part of the scaling up of the Rapid Response Mechanism (RRM). The RRM will target the most vulnerable women and men, reaching out to conflict-affected areas inside and outside Tripoli.

The number of mobile teams providing psychosocial support to IDPs in collective centers will also be increased, reaching out to additional urban settlements inside and outside Tripoli.

A hotline to provide psychosocial support and counselling to people in need is about to be launched by UNFPA, in partnership with local partners. This line will be toll-free and reachable everywhere in Libya.

UNFPA is also expanding the deployment of community health volunteers with the Libyan Red Crescent and the Libyan Midwifery Association in Tripoli and other conflict-affected municipalities. These volunteers will provide health education sessions and refer vulnerable women to health facilities.

Reproductive health services will continue to be provided through the two UNFPA-supported polyclinics in Weryemma and Janzour, in addition to the referral hospitals in displacement and conflict-affected areas. UNFPA will provide trainings and capacity building to the health workers deployed in these facilities. This will allow to reach more than 18,000 women, girls, men and boys over the coming six months. facilities.
